DETAILED ACTION

Specification and Drawings

The lengthy specification and drawings have not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification and drawings.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Saitoh (US Pat 6400920).

Saitoh discloses:

- {claim 1} An image recording apparatus which records an image on a recording medium, the image recording apparatus comprising in housing thereof: a water vapor removing section which removes water vapor; and a solvent recovering section which recovers vapor of organic solvent; which evaporates within the housing (abstract)

FIG. 5

- {claim 2} wherein the vapor of organic solvent is vapor evaporated from a recording liquid for recording the image on the recording medium (abstract)
- {claim 3} wherein the water vapor removing section is provided at an inlet portion which takes in air from outside of the housing into the inside of the housing (figure 5, reference 103-104 serves a housing; inlet portion is seen as part leading into the thus defined housing)
- {claim 4} wherein the solvent recovering section is provided at an outlet port which exhausts air from the inside of the housing to the outside of the housing (figure 5, reference 103-104 serves as housing; outlet portion is seen as part leading away from the thus defined housing)
- {claim 5} wherein the housing is in a substantially sealed state except for the inlet port and the outlet port (figure 5, reference 103-104)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 6-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Saitoh (US Pat 6400920) in view of Urano (US Pat 4254339).

Saitoh discloses an image forming apparatus (as applied to claims 1-5 above).

Saitoh differs from the claimed invention in that it does not disclose:

- {claim 6} wherein an activated carbon filter is used as the water vapor removing section
- {claim 7} wherein a silica gel filter is used as the water vapor removing section

Urano discloses, with respect to claims 6-7, an activated carbon filter and a silica gel filter being used to remove moisture from air (column 5, lines 13-19).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the teachings of Urano into the invention of Saitoh. The motivation for the skilled artisan in doing so is to gain the benefit of removing moisture from air.

Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Saitoh (US Pat 6400920) in view of Nii (US Pat 6693295).

Saitoh discloses an image forming apparatus (as applied to claims 1-5 above), where the image forming apparatus is an electrophotographic device (abstract).

Saitoh differs from the claimed invention in that it does not disclose:

- {claim 8} wherein the image recording apparatus is an ink type recording apparatus

Art Unit: 2853

Nii discloses the existence of vapor deposition methods for both electrophotographic and ink jet printing methods (column 26, lines 45-49; the examiner is well aware that the field of invention of Nii is vastly different from the field of invention of the claimed invention; however the teaching of Nii is simply being used to show the equivalence between electrophotographic printing and ink jet printing).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the teaching of Nii in view of Saitoh. The motivation for the skilled artisan in doing so is to gain the benefit of being able to interchange an electrophotographic recording device with an ink-jet printing device for added flexibility.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Loyd et al (US Pat 5477256) discloses an ink mist filter.
